Take This Opportunity to Share your Expertise

As you know, we have made some changes to the CPAE co-conference at the AAACE annual meeting this year. As a result of last year’s membership survey, a conversation café many of you attended at AERC in Oklahoma last year, and your Think Tank results at last year’s CPAE co-conference, we are focusing this year’s co-conference more on professional development sessions and workshops of interest to CPAE members.

This is where we need your help and expertise!

Within our organization, we have a lot of experts on a lot of topics of interest to CPAE members. Please consider what you’re good at that might be of interest to all CPAE members. Perhaps you have developed a good mentoring program. Maybe you are good at grant writing. Maybe you have advice for CPAE members interested in the promotion and tenure process (from assistant to associate or from associate to full professor). There are a lot of topics that could be of interest to your CPAE colleagues.

The success of this new co-conference format depends on YOU. Please take some time to consider how you might provide some adult education to your CPAE colleagues, and then submit a proposal for a CPAE professional development workshop or concurrent session. If you have any questions about possible topics or the proposal process, contact Steve Schmidt (schmidt@ecu.edu), Program Chair and CPAE Chair Elect or Ann Brooks (abrooks@txstate.edu), CPAE Chair. Remember that proposals are due by Sunday, April 15.

Deadline extended to April 30, 2018
Promotions/New Positions/Awards

Dr. Geleana Alston is one of East Carolina University’s 2018 Forty Leaders Under Forty. For more information, please visit http://www.ecu.edu/cs-studentaffairs/sadevelopment/40under40/

Dr. Laura Bierema is a recipient of a 2018 Fulbright U.S. Scholar Award to research higher education teaching methods at the University of Padova with Dr. Monica Fedeli. See https://coe.uga.edu/news/2018/02/faculty-member-wins-fulbright-to-research-refine-teaching-in-italy

Dr. John D. Holst and Dr. Rebecca Tarlau have joined the faculty of the Lifelong Learning and Adult Education Program at the University Park campus of Penn State University. Before joining the faculty at Penn State, Dr. Holst worked for 17 years at the University of St. Thomas in Minnesota. Dr. Tarlau received her PhD from the University of California, Berkeley, in 2014, and spent 2.5 years a postdoctoral scholar at Stanford University. Both new faculty members bring research expertise in social movements and education, social and political economic theory, and a focus on Latin America.

Dr. Yvonne Hunter-Johnson is the recipient of the 2018 Research Scholarly and Creative Activity Award presented by Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies (WGSS) and University Women’s Professional Advancement (UWPA). This award supports women-identified tenure-track faculty actively engaged in pursuing rigorous research and scholarly and creative activities on their path toward tenure at SIU. Dr. Yvonne Hunter-Johnson is an assistant professor in the Department of Workforce Education and Development at Southern Illinois University (Carbondale).

Calls for Manuscripts

eLearn Magazine is now blind peer-reviewed. eLearn Magazine is an open-access, blind peer-reviewed publication at the intersection of eLearning research and practice. eLearn is where practice informs research and research informs practice. It provides a space for evidence-based conversations with practical implications for higher education, K-12, corporate, government, and not-for-profit contexts. eLearn Magazine’s mission is to advance eLearning innovations, applications, and policy ideas that move the global conversation forward. If you have an idea for an article or want to share your research related to eLearning, consider submitting an article on topics related to eLearning in higher education, K-12 blended and online learning, international online learning, corporate, government, and non-profit environments. Articles may focus on management, design for learning, emerging technologies, and instructor development. For more information, please consult eLearn magazine website at http://elearnmag.acm.org/ or contact the Co-Editors-in-Chief Dr. Simone C. O. Conceição (simonec@uwm.edu ) and Dr. Anita Samuel (anitasamuel28@gmail.com).

Call for Manuscripts: Adult Learning encourages you to submit your manuscript for publication. We seek a variety of articles that make current research, theoretical issues, and literature reviews relevant to practitioners. We also seek thoughtful descriptions of innovative practices in teaching, programming, and administration. Prospective authors are welcome to contact the editors, Ann Brooks at abrooks@txstate.edu or Geleana Alston at gdalston@ncat.edu.

Position Announcements

The Department of Teaching, Leadership, and Counseling within the Gallaspy Family College of Education and Human Development at Northwestern State University of Louisiana is seeking applications for a 9-month tenure track faculty position (summer teaching is probable) as an Assistant/Associate Professor in Adult Learning and Development for the Adult Learning and Development Master of Arts and Doctor of Education programs. Academic rank and salary are commensurate with qualifications and experience. The start date for the position is August 13, 2018. For qualifications additional information see the listing on HigherEdJobs at https://goo.gl/zy6ooJ or e-mail Dr. Bill Morrison at morrisonb@nsula.edu.

The School of Leadership and Human Resource Development at Louisiana State University announces the availability of a full-time Instructor position in Human Resource & Leadership Development to teach undergraduate courses in human resource and leadership development. The candidate will have a commitment to scholarly teaching excellence and service to the profession. The appointment will be effective August, 2018. For qualifications additional information see the listing on ChronicleVitae at https://chroniclevitae.com/jobs/0000416189-01
Announcements

New Course

In an effort to create methodological plurality in its students’ dissertations, the Adult and Lifelong Learning program at the University of Arkansas recently designed and delivered its own statistics course using adult learning principles. The course, titled Quantitative Reasoning for Adult Educators, will be in their regular rotation. Their faculty are open to sharing the model with other adult education doctoral programs aiming to diversify student research.

Project Announcement

The Adult Education Interview Series Project at University of Central Oklahoma was inspired by the use of TED talks and other similar videos in online and distance education courses. It was noticed that there is not much video information available on the topics of adult and continuing education, so the project was formed. The idea of the project was to record the current thoughts of adult educators throughout the nation, and archive them so they can be used in adult education courses now and in the future. Video archives can be access from this link: https://www.ahea.org/adult-education-interview-series/adult-education-interview-series-archive/

Workshop

Ball State University will be offering a 2-day Photovoice workshop May 10–11, 2018. This workshop will provide academic researchers with a dynamic overview of the Photovoice methodology. Each participant will have the opportunity to conceptualize and begin developing a specific Photovoice project. The workshop will be co-led by Dr. Amanda O. Latz, Associate Professor at Ball State University (BSU) and Photovoice methodologist, and several doctoral students currently studying at BSU. Space is limited to 36 participants. All attendees will receive Photovoice Research in Education and Beyond: A Practical Guide from Theory to Exhibition, a new book by Amanda O. Latz. Details and registration can be found at this link: www.bsuphotovoice.wordpress.com

AHEA Selects Book by Victor C. X. Wang

Professor Kathy Peno, President of the Adult Higher Education Alliance, shared the following news with Dr. Victor C. X. Wang:

Every year, AHEA invites authors/editors to propose a book for the following year that AHEA sponsors and highlights at their annual conference. Each conference attendee receives a copy of the book with their paid membership. This year, we have decided to buy copies of your book (Theory and Practice of Adult and Higher Education) to give out to our paid members at the conference. We are excited about this volume and think our members will be as well. Thank you for publishing this fine work. We are excited to be highlighting it at AHEA this year!

All chapters were written by AAACE leading scholars including Dr. Stephen Brookfield who wrote the first chapter. The late Dr. Patricia Cranton wrote the foreword before she passed away. Recently, R. Anthony Rolle, Dean, University of Rhode Island, Alan Shawn Feinstein College of Education and Professional Studies, wrote a new foreword to help promote this publication. This book has the potential to be adopted as a required textbook by doctoral programs.

Conference

The International Conference on Urban Education is pleased to release their exciting, solutions-based Call for Proposals for our conference, scheduled for November 8-10 in Nassau, Bahamas. The deadline for submissions is April 22, 2018. Details and can be found at this link: https://www.theicue.org/call-for-presentation-proposals/.

Editor Appointment

Dr. Kelly McKenna started as the Resources Editor for Adult Learning on April 1, 2018.
Did you know that as a graduate student, you can join the Commission of Professors of Adult Education (CPAE)?

- In fact, you are cordially invited to join the Commission and actively participate in this year’s upcoming co-conference held in conjunction with the AAACE conference in Myrtle Beach, SC, October 2–5, 2018.
- CPAE seeks to provide a caring, supportive community for you and your colleagues who are interested in working in a variety of positions focused on adult education in a diverse array of contexts, including the professoriate.
- When register for AAACE, you have a great opportunity this year to capitalize on reduced CPAE co-conference rates and flexible conference registration options.

We encourage you to join us to learn and to also contribute!

We welcome you to submit a proposal and join us for engaging learning opportunities in concurrent sessions as well as for professional development workshops.

- Don’t forget to sign up for the Graduate Student breakfast hosted by AAACE. More information can be found here: http://www.aaace.org/?page=CPAEHome

If you want more details about the CPAE and these opportunities, e-mail Dr. Petra A. Robinson at petrar@lsu.edu

2017–2018 CPAE LEADERSHIP

Executive Committee

Chair & AAACE Commissioner (2016–2018): Ann Brooks, Texas State University, abrooks@txstate.edu
Chair Elect (2017–2018): Steve Schmitt, East Carolina University, schmidts@ecu.edu
Secretary-Treasurer (2017–2019): Kalpana Gupta, Colorado State University, Kalpana.Gupta@colostate.edu

Members At-Large:
Haijun Kang (2016–2018), Kansas State University, hjkang@ksu.edu
Petra Robinson (2016–2018), Louisiana State University, petrar@lsu.edu
Leann Robillard Kaiser (2017-2019), Colorado State University, Leann.Kaiser@colostate.edu
Lisa Merriweather (2017-2019), UNC Charlotte, lmerriwe@uncc.edu

CPAE Website Administrator: Haijun Kang, Kansas State University, hjkang@ksu.edu
CPAE Listserv Maintainer: Lori Risley, University of Central Oklahoma, irisley1@uco.edu
Books

Journals/Book Chapters

